African Tech Journal publicly offering to sponsor 5 copies of Under the Yellow Umbrella on behalf of Selar

This means so much to me, seeing that you're crafting a part for yourself as a creator, and you're willing to share the values you have experienced or learned over time with the world while you earn at it as well.

I will be sponsoring 5 copies of your book, and I really hope that this pushes you to know that you can do more as a creator and you continue to connect better with your audience as you grow.

In line with the small giveaway, on behalf of Selar, I wish you well in selling your book, with plenty impact to make with it.

Pick the 5 people you're willing to gift the book to, get their emails, and send to me in dm so I'll do the necessary.

Congratulations gbemi 🤗

Gbemi really try, and also this is real life, nothing is fictional here
